

How the 2016 Election Hack Affected Consumers Voting Plans and Cybersecurity Efforts

Citizen and Millennial distrust

67%

believe the 2016 hack impacted the outcome of the presidential election

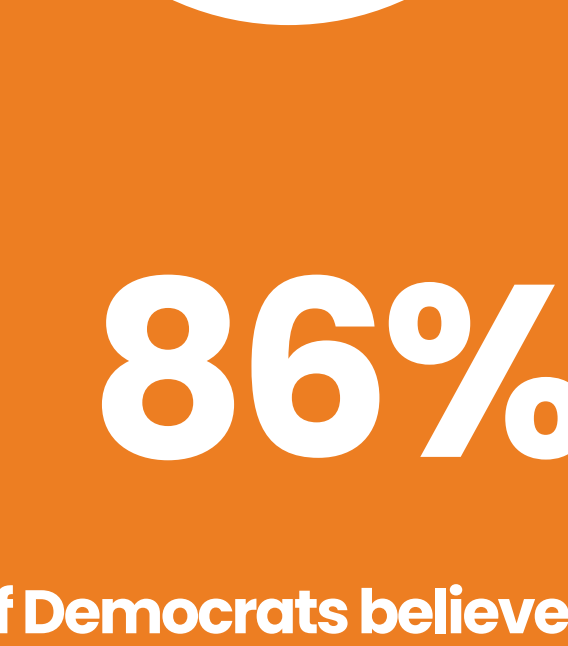

60%

don't believe the U.S. voting system is secure

63%

believe the U.S. hasn't done enough to protect the voting system for future elections

86%

of Democrats believe the hack impacted the election outcome, while only 34% of Republicans said the same

22%

aren't even aware the voting system was hacked in the 2016 presidential election

81%

of young millennials believe the hack affected the outcome, while only 55% of Baby Boomers said the same

Concerns about personal data

52%

of respondents expressed concern for their personal identification data as a result of the 2016 hack

57%

said they would vote via text message if their state gave them the option

35%

haven't adjusted their security habits as a result of the 2016 election hack

10%

have turned to tools to assist in protecting their data

This infographic is based on a 2018 study commissioned by OpenVPN

